

Speechcraft Afterthoughts from Tom, Dick, & Harry

By LYNNE KOBUS

Renfrew Toastmasters

Tom: Hi guys! So how did you like Speechcraft at the Renfrew Toastmasters club?

Dick: I thought it was great. I learned a lot.

Harry: Yeah! Now I won't be in such a panic if the boss wants me to do a presentation at a meeting.

Tom: Right. Speechcraft gave me some confidence and a boost in the right direction.

Dick: You got it right for sure. I know I'm not Mr. Perfect at speaking, but I learned that all it takes is practice to improve.

Harry: Maybe the three of us should join Renfrew Toastmasters and learn more.

Tom: Sounds like a good idea. A regular meeting would make us work at it. And club members are very encouraging. It's a safe place to learn to speak.

Dick: Ruth and John seemed to really enjoy Speechcraft. They have speaking abilities they never knew they had. I guess we all have speaking abilities we don't know about. Maybe we will see Ruth and John back too.

Harry: Hey! Maybe we can bring some of the other guys and gals with us. You can go to three free meetings to see if Renfrew Toastmasters is for you.

Tom: Meetings are Mondays at 7 p.m. at 236 Hall Ave. That's a good time for me.

Dick: I'll call 649-2950 or 432-7557 to let them know we'll be back. Hey look. Here comes the boss.

The Boss: I need each of you to do a short speaking presentation. Here are your assignments.

Harry: Sure boss. We can do that. No problem, Leave it to us.

The Boss: (while walking away thinking) I wonder what happened to those three? No moaning and groaning about speaking. Hmm?
