

TOAST WITH BUTTER OR PIZZAZZ

An Invitation from Renfrew Toastmasters

By Lynne Kobus

Tom: What should I do guys? The boss asked me to do the toast at the next special guest breakfast meeting.

Dick: Well I hope you said you would do it.

Harry: Yeah! If you say no, the boss will have you doing extra work for the next two weeks.

Tom: Yeah! Yeah! I know that. That's why I said yes even though I wanted to rip out my vocal cords and write a note saying I was mute.

Dick: I guess you're remembering how well I did the last toast to a special guest.

Harry: Oh! What a hoot! You not only managed to put your foot in your mouth, you got it in practically up to your knee. Ha!

Tom: You guys are not helping. How do I do a proper toast?

Dick: You're asking us! If I had known how, I wouldn't be still pulling bits of sock out of my mouth.

Harry: Hey Tom! Why not ask the boss if you can be the waiter and you can do the toast...with butter.

Note from Lynne: Contrary to what Tom, Dick, and Harry think, it is not difficult to do a toast. Like anything else, all you need is a bit of instruction, some practice, and an opportunity to shine.

You are invited to a special Toastmasters meeting on Monday, April 23 at 7p.m. at 236 Hall Avenue. And it's absolutely free. (Don't worry if you missed it, you are welcome to attend any Monday night.)

Be prepared for an interesting and enjoyable evening of tips and instruction on how to give a great toast at a meeting, a wedding, or other special occasion – one with pizzazz. You will see – any Tom, Dick, or Harry can do a toast.
